The Virginias have twice been defeated by the students, and they naturally feel that it is but poor work for them to be continually trying their sall with the collegians alone. They believe that if in the coming months the prospects for a regata here are no better than they have been in the past it will be advisable for them to apply for membership in the Maryland association.

Archbishop Francis Janssens, of New Orleans, who was for thirteen years a priest at St Peter's Cathedral here, is a most welcome guest of Rich Cathedral here, is a most we come guest of Richmond for a few days. He arrived here Monday afterneon from New York city, where he had been attending the council of archaisapps, and is an roste to his fin-away southern home.

The Archhishop will be in the city until Monday and will probably preach at the Cathedral Sunday morning. He is the guest of his warm personal friend Sishop Van de Vyver, who is entertaining him at the spiscopal residence during his stay here. The two divines drove over the city yesterday attendon, and the Archhishop was afforded an opportunity to see again many of the spots and scenes so familiar to him in former years.

He has expressed himself as greatly pleased with Kichmond's growth and general development. He has visited Richmond several times before since his elevation to the positions of Bishop and Archbishop, but has not been here until now for several years. He is looking exceedingly well and robust and says he is enjoying splendid health.

Archbishop Janssens came to Richmond under the beloved Bishop (now Cardinal Gibbons and Bishop Keatle, Under the episcopacy of the latter he was Vicar-General, and it was also by him that he was consecrated with imposing correspondes at St. Peter's Cathedralas Bishop of Natchez. After acceptably serving in this capacity for some years he was promoted to the archbishopping of New Orleans, one of the most important of the United States.

Property—A Shell Explodes.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

MELDON, N. C., November E9.—An escaped negro corrict was arrested here last night while in the act of selling a stolen pistol, the property of William Pierce, whose sloop was entered and robbed last Friday night. About twenty keys were found on the person of the cenvict, and it is supposed that he is a desperate burglar. The Mayor sent him on to the grand jury and committed him to jail.

Jim Parker, a little negro boy, picked up a loaded shell this morning and commenced to hammer it upon a brick. The usual result followed. The shell exploded, seriously and painfully injuring the boy. His face, hands, and along the strategy of the face of the cotton has caused a lively trade here in the feecy staple. Much of the cotton in this section, however, had been sold before the advance in the present prices only benefit a few of the farmers in this county. (By telegraphto the Dispatch.) WASHINGTON, D. was dull during the greater part of the day.

At the opening a firm tone prevailed and fractional advances were served for the leading shares, owing partly to moderate purchases for London account, but chiefly to buying to cover short contracts. Reading, which was one of the leaders in the upward movement, was taken in round amounts by a firm credited with being short of that and other stocks for a well-known operator.

CREATEST ADVANCE OF THE DAY.

Louisville and Nashville sold up 55 to 71%, the greatest advance of the day in the railway list. rollowing the partial climination of the short interest, duliness set in, and the fluctuations were quite insignificant until the last hour, when the bears made a vigorous and successful rail. Chicago Gas reli off 214 to 9414; Consolidated Gas, 2 to 12314; Distillers, 135 to 6045, and New England 114 to 414. The other shares yielded 14 to 35 per cent. GOLD AND GOULD AGAIN.

THE CLOSE WHAK. The market closed weak. Sales-Listed, 263, 000 shares; unlisted, 25,000.

BRIDE OF A SURGEON

Miss Mary G. Mathews weds Dr.
James M. Whitfield, Of the Navy.

A Notable Stein Event in Manchester—
Brideswaids, Ushers, Dresses, &c.—Personal and General Notes.

Everybody is interested in a bride, and when the usual and kindly interest is intensified by the satisfaction of seeing the esteemed scion of a prominent family secure the rarest jewel of an equally prominent name the thrill of pleasure is doubly strong. Such an union was solemnized at the Bainbridge-Street Baptist church, in Missan Mosta, Hong Mosta, William Mosta, Hong Mosta sistant aurgeon of the United States Navy, and Miss Mary Graham Mathews, an accomplished daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Mathews, plighted their troth and were pronounced husband and wife,

The wedding, to which a great deal of interest attached in both Manchester and Richmond, was an unusually pretty one. The arrangements were unique and the details were nicely executed. Rev. L. R.

details were nicely executed. Rev. L. R. Thornhill, pastor of the church, delivered the charge; Rev. Dr. Theodore Whitfeld, father of the groom, performed the ceremony proper, and Rev. Dr. William E. Hatcher invoked the choicest blessings upon the sacred union.

The church auditorium and gallery was crowded, and when the bridal party arrived the entrance was so blocked with people that they found some difficulty in getting from the carriages to the vessibale. When the party entered the edifice they were followed a considerable distance up the aisle by the throug that had assem-

Then came the bride, accompanied by her father. She was robed in a beautiful gown of white Bengaline silk trimmed with Duchess lace, and wore a handsome pearl girdle, which was a very elaborate ornament. She carried a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums and smilux, and wore a tulle veil, held in position by an exquisite wreath of orange blossoms. On her slippers, which matched her costume, were a pair of silver buckles worn by

New York, November 29.-The stock market was dull during the greater part of the day.

Statements to the effect that gold shipments will be made on Saturday unless a radical change occurs in the condition of the exchange market in the meantime were availed of by the bears to depress the list. Rumors were also circulated concerning the health of Jay Gould for the purpose of alarming timid holders. The solling, however, was mainly for the short account, and as a rule tho not losses for the day were merely fractional.
